A HANDSOME SURPRISE .- The members of the Zane street M. E. Church, armed with wheel-carriages, baskets, buckets, etc., made a sudden descent upon the residence of their pastor-Rev. Such a variety of valumble presents, then and there collected, was presents, then and there confected, was presents, then and there confected, was present and the constant, in our hospitable city. In a word, everything which the largest liberality and a grateful appreciation of service could invent, was gathered together for the comfort and encouragement of this good minister and his excellent family. The occasion was enlivened by the presence of sixty or more members of the congregation, who, after doing anople justice to a table which fairly groaned under the load of good things which their own hands had prepared, relaving behind them, no doubt, many as slient "God beas our minister." Knot. Double Lock and Double Knot, either of which is atronger and more elastic than the Lock; thus enabling the operator to select a stitch perfectly suited to every grade of fabric, and where necessary, sew seams much stronger than it is possible to do by hand.

It was further reported to us that the aforesaid hunters tracked a bear for a day and a half, without getting a shot at him. Towards the evening of the second day the trail led them into a regular jungle of laurel and broath, with the "sign" of Bruiu's proximity becoming every moment more fresh. It is said, too, that the parties became somewhat confused as to the fact whether they were siter the bear, or the bear was after them. Night was fast settling down upon them, the jungle was thick and dark, and the idea of a night encounter with so formidable an opponent, was by no means pleasant. Remembering the old adage that "discrution is the better part of vulor," they made a bee line for the railroad, and thence home with the trophles above mentioned. EVERYEVENING
